Brief Technical Description of Suggested Virtualization Solution in Line with Annex A

With technical assistance of IOM, the Nigeria Immigration Service (NIS) now uses a centralized Border Management Information System (BMIS) which enables seamless data synchronization between the NIS Headquarters and other locations. Due to the large volume of generated data which has to be secured, the need for virtualizing the central server has been identified.

The required task is a full server virtualization including all internal storage locations and provisioning. This will cover the procurement, installation and configuration of all software and licenses, alongside corresponding and compatible hardware, which should take place in consultation and liaison with NIS/IOM. A detailed documentation on installation, troubleshooting and general management of the system, as well as knowledge transfer session(s) should be available after full deployment.

The requested EOI should briefly outline the suggested design of the virtualization solution along with milestones, timeframes and estimated costs. Please see ANNEX A for further details.
